

CARMEN MONOGRAPHS AND STUDIES

CARMEN Monographs and Studies seeks to explore the movements of people, ideas, religions and objects in the medieval period. It welcomes publications that deal with the migration of people and artefacts in the Middle Ages, the adoption of Christianity in northern, Baltic, and east-central Europe, and early Islam and its expansion through the Umayyad caliphate. CMS also encourages work that engages with the histories of the Global South and interdisciplinary approaches that explicitly incorporate material culture.

The series is a venue for established scholars as well as early career researchers from partners and countries within the CARMEN Medieval Network outside Western Europe and North America. For this reason, the editorial board comprises a new generation of scholars from institutions connected to the CARMEN network, particularly those outside Europe.

Arc Humanities Press (Arc) operates as a specialist imprint, with a focus on premodern studies, in partnership with Amsterdam University Press (AUP). It was established as the publishing arm of the learned society for medieval studies worldwide CARMEN Worldwide Medieval Network, and comprises a dozen acquisitions and publishing experts from around the world. In partnering with AUP, Arc offers all the advantages of continental Europe’s largest university press, including worldwide distribution, whilst offering authors the benefits of dealing with a highly motivated team of medieval and early modern specialists.
